

Thomas Duncan Hall Photo Contest

Thomas Duncan, born in Girvan Scotland, was himself an avid and accomplished photographer.

This Scotsman became a successful entrepreneur, producing electric meters he engineered, when he moved to Lafayette in the late 1800's. But he also had a passion for photography. He left a bequest in his will when he died in 1928, so that Lafayette would have a gracious and spacious community hall. One primary use was to be a gathering place for The Arts. Duncan Hall has inspired photographers for nearly eight decades. Today, we continue to fulfill Thomas Duncan's vision by inviting you to share your photographic talents.
